

ABAND

Meaning: ABAND (verb): to leave behind or give up something, often with a sense of loss or neglect.

1. The old house was abandoned long before we arrived in the neighborhood.
2. She felt a deep sense of loss when she had to abandon her childhood dreams.
3. The team decided to abandon their plans after realizing the risks involved.
4. He stood at the edge of the cliff, contemplating whether to abandon his fears.
5. After years of neglect, the garden was completely abandoned and overgrown.
6. They chose to abandon the project when funding became unavailable.
7. It was hard for her to abandon the comfort of her routine for something unknown.
8. The hikers were forced to abandon the trail due to heavy snowfall.
9. In the end, they had to abandon their trip and return home early.
10. The ship was abandoned after it was deemed too damaged to repair.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/aband>