

ABERR

Meaning: Aberr (noun): a deviation from the expected or typical pattern or behavior.

1. The scientist noted an aberr in the data that suggested a flaw in the experiment.
2. Her sudden outburst was an aberr from her usually calm demeanor.
3. The storm was considered an aberr in the otherwise mild weather pattern of the region.
4. His decision to leave was seen as an aberr in a career marked by loyalty and dedication.
5. The artist's latest work was an aberr that diverged from her established style.
6. They were surprised by the aberr in the election results that contradicted their expectations.
7. The athlete's performance was an aberr compared to his usual level of excellence.
8. This unexpected trend in consumer behavior is viewed as an aberr in the market analysis.
9. An aberr in the historical record can lead to misunderstandings about past events.
10. The sudden increase in temperature was an aberr that scientists struggled to explain.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/aberr>