

ABERRATION

Meaning: Aberration: a departure from what is normal, usual, or expected, typically resulting in an anomaly or irregularity.

1. The sudden drop in temperature was an aberration for the usually warm climate of the region.
2. Her behavior at the meeting was an aberration that surprised even her closest colleagues.
3. Scientists noted that the unusual star formation was an aberration in the otherwise predictable pattern of the galaxy.
4. The artist's latest work was considered an aberration from his traditional style, causing mixed reactions from critics.
5. In the context of the experiment, the data point was deemed an aberration and was subsequently discarded.
6. The team's loss was viewed as an aberration, given their consistent performance throughout the season.
7. He considered his brief lapse in judgment an aberration rather than a reflection of his true character.
8. The report highlighted an aberration in the financial figures that warranted further investigation.
9. Many believed the sudden rise in crime rates to be an aberration rather than a new trend.
10. The company's decision to pivot was seen as an aberration in its long-standing commitment to sustainability.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/aberration>