

ABRADE

Meaning: To abrade means to wear away or rub off a surface through friction or erosion.

1. The rough surface of the stone began to abrade her skin as she climbed higher.
 2. Over time, the constant friction would abrade the paint from the metal railing.
 3. He used sandpaper to abrade the wood before applying the finish.
 4. The harsh conditions can easily abrade the protective coating on the equipment.
 5. It was the wind and sand that would abrade the ancient carvings over centuries.
 6. She was careful not to abrade the delicate fabric while washing it.
 7. The intense heat can abrade the surface of the materials used in construction.
 8. Every time the tire rotated, it would abrade the asphalt beneath it.
 9. Chemicals in the water can abrade the surfaces of pipes, leading to leaks.
 10. The athlete's shoes were designed to withstand wear and not abrade easily on the track.
 11. The sharp rocks began to abrade the surface of the boat's hull.
 12. Over time, the constant friction would abrade the paint on the wall.
 13. She noticed how the harsh winter winds could abrade the landscape, smoothing out the rough edges.
 14. The workers took precautions to ensure that the machinery would not abrade the delicate materials.
 15. He used sandpaper to abrade the wood before applying the varnish.
 16. As the waves crashed against the shore, they abrade the sand into fine particles.
 17. Running the cloth too vigorously could abrade the lens of the camera.
 18. The artist chose to abrade the canvas to create a unique texture for her painting.
 19. In the laboratory, they needed to abrade the surface of the metal for better adhesion.
 20. Frequent use of the tool will abrade its surface, reducing its effectiveness over time.
-

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/abrade>