

ACHROMATIZE

Meaning: To achromatize means to modify a lens or optical system to reduce or eliminate chromatic aberration, thereby improving image clarity.

1. To achromatize the lens, the technician carefully adjusted the refractive elements.
2. The scientist aimed to achromatize the optical system for better image clarity.
3. By using a specific coating, they were able to achromatize the glass effectively.
4. Researchers discovered a new method to achromatize materials at the molecular level.
5. The process to achromatize involves reducing chromatic aberration in photography.
6. Optical engineers often seek to achromatize their designs to enhance performance.
7. Achromatizing the microscope lens improved the quality of the observed specimens.
8. The goal was to achromatize the colors in the artwork for a more realistic appearance.
9. To achieve a clear view, they had to achromatize the telescope's optics.
10. The new formula allowed them to achromatize the pigments used in the paint.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/achromatize>