

ACIDIMETER

Meaning: An acidimeter is an instrument used to measure the acidity or pH level of a solution.

1. An acidimeter is essential for measuring the acidity of juice during the production process.
2. The chemist used an acidimeter to determine the pH level of the solution accurately.
3. In winemaking, an acidimeter helps ensure the right balance of acidity in the final product.
4. To maintain quality control, the laboratory frequently calibrates its acidimeter.
5. Farmers often rely on an acidimeter to assess soil acidity before planting crops.
6. An acidimeter can provide crucial data for brewing beer with the desired flavor profile.
7. When testing for acid strength, having a reliable acidimeter is indispensable.
8. The acidimeter indicated a significant increase in acidity after fermentation.
9. Proper usage of an acidimeter can greatly enhance the consistency of food products.
10. For accurate results, it is important to clean the acidimeter after each use.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/acidimeter>