

ACRIDLY

Meaning: Acridly means in a manner that is sharp, bitter, or unpleasantly pungent, often causing irritation or discomfort.

1. The smoke from the burning leaves rose acridly into the air, stinging our eyes.
2. She spoke acridly, her sharp words cutting through the tension in the room.
3. The acridly sweet scent of burnt sugar filled the bakery as the pastries overcooked.
4. He remembered the acridly bitter taste of the medicine he had to take as a child.
5. The atmosphere in the meeting turned acridly hostile as disagreements escalated.
6. As the chemicals mixed, they released an acridly pungent odor that made us cough.
7. Her laughter rang out acridly in the silence, a reminder of her contempt.
8. The acridly tangy flavor of the sauce overwhelmed the dish, leaving a strange aftertaste.
9. His acridly sarcastic remarks alienated him from his colleagues.
10. The argument ended acridly, leaving both parties feeling hurt and misunderstood.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/acridly>