

ADDLE-PATEDNESS

Meaning: Addle-patedness refers to a state of mental confusion or foolishness, often resulting in forgetfulness or poor judgment.

1. Her addle-patedness was evident when she forgot her own birthday party.
2. The professor attributed his student's poor performance to a moment of addle-patedness.
3. In the midst of his addle-patedness, he accidentally mixed up the ingredients for the cake.
4. Despite her addle-patedness, she managed to charm everyone at the gathering.
5. His addle-patedness often led him to make impulsive decisions at work.
6. The team's addle-patedness during the meeting resulted in a confusing presentation.
7. She laughed off her addle-patedness, claiming it was just a sign of a busy mind.
8. In his addle-patedness, he forgot to bring the very documents he had prepared.
9. The addle-patedness of the situation made it difficult to find a solution quickly.
10. Everyone has moments of addle-patedness, especially when under pressure.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/addle-patedness>