

ADJUNCTIVELY

Meaning: Adjunctively means in a manner that adds or supplements, often used to describe the addition of information or elements in a supportive role.

1. The professor explained the term adjunctively to clarify its use in complex sentences.
2. In chemistry, elements can be categorized adjunctively based on their properties.
3. The committee discussed the proposal adjunctively, considering various perspectives.
4. Adjunctively, the new policy will enhance the existing framework for student support.
5. The research team analyzed the data adjunctively, leading to a more comprehensive understanding.
6. Adjunctively, the study highlighted the importance of interdisciplinary collaboration.
7. In literature, themes can be explored adjunctively through character development.
8. The findings were presented adjunctively, offering a multi-faceted view of the issue.
9. She approached the problem adjunctively, integrating insights from different disciplines.
10. The training program will be structured adjunctively, allowing for flexibility in learning paths.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/adjunctively>