

ADLEGATION

Meaning: Adlegation refers to an assertion or allegation, particularly in a formal context, of wrongdoing or misconduct.

1. The adlegation of misconduct against the public official sparked widespread debate.
2. Despite the adlegation being serious, the evidence presented was largely circumstantial.
3. Her adlegation of unfair treatment prompted an internal investigation by the company.
4. The defendant's adlegation was met with skepticism by the jury during the trial.
5. In the face of the adlegation, the accused maintained their innocence throughout the proceedings.
6. His adlegation that the policy was discriminatory led to a re-evaluation of the rules.
7. The adlegation of fraud was thoroughly investigated by the authorities.
8. She felt that the adlegation made against her was unfounded and damaging to her reputation.
9. The adlegation received media attention, highlighting the need for transparency in the process.
10. After reviewing the adlegation, the committee decided to take disciplinary action.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/adlegation>