

AFFABLENESS

Meaning: Affableness refers to the quality of being friendly, approachable, and easy to talk to.

1. Her affableness made her the most popular person at the gathering.
2. The affableness of the new manager created a welcoming atmosphere in the office.
3. He approached the task with an affableness that put everyone at ease.
4. Her affableness shone through during the difficult negotiations, helping to ease tensions.
5. Despite the gravity of the situation, his affableness provided a moment of levity.
6. People were drawn to his affableness, often seeking his advice and company.
7. The affableness of the host transformed the event into a memorable occasion.
8. In a world full of stress, her affableness offered a refreshing change.
9. His natural affableness made him a beloved figure in the community.
10. She possessed an innate affableness that endeared her to everyone she met.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/affableness>