

AFFECTIBLE

Meaning: AFFECTIBLE (adjective): Capable of being influenced or emotionally affected by external factors or stimuli.

1. The artist's emotions were highly affectible, swaying with every brushstroke.
2. Children are often more affectible than adults, readily absorbing the feelings of those around them.
3. Her affectible nature made her an empathetic listener, always attuned to others' struggles.
4. In a world filled with constant change, some individuals remain surprisingly affectible, adapting quickly to new circumstances.
5. The affectible protagonist of the story struggled with the weight of others' expectations.
6. He found that his affectible disposition led to both deep connections and overwhelming sadness.
7. Their affectible personalities clashed, leading to misunderstandings and emotional turmoil.
8. Being affectible can be a double-edged sword, offering both deep joy and profound pain.
9. The affectible characters in the novel mirrored the tumultuous emotions of the time period.
10. Throughout her life, she embraced her affectible spirit, allowing herself to feel deeply and authentically.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/affectible>