

AFFRIENDED

Meaning: Affriended (verb): to befriend or form a friendship with someone, often leading to a sense of acceptance and warmth.

1. She felt a sense of warmth when she was affriended by the new group at school.
2. The shy girl was thrilled to be affriended by the outgoing kids in her class.
3. After moving to a new city, he quickly affriended several neighbors who welcomed him.
4. Being affriended by someone with similar interests made her feel less alone.
5. He discovered that he was affriended by a colleague who shared his passion for art.
6. Their bond deepened when they affriended each other during the summer camp.
7. She had always been cautious about opening up, but she felt safe once she was affriended.
8. Through a mutual friend, they affriended each other and soon became inseparable.
9. The online community affriended her, providing support during a challenging time.
10. When they affriended, it was the start of a beautiful friendship that lasted for years.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/affriended>