

AFTERCLAP

Meaning: Afterclap: a sudden, echoing sound or noise that follows an initial event, such as applause or an explosion.

1. The concert ended with a stunning afterclap that reverberated through the hall.
2. As the fireworks exploded overhead, there was an unexpected afterclap that startled the crowd.
3. The thunderstorm passed, but the afterclap of lightning kept us on edge.
4. She laughed at the afterclap of applause that followed her unexpected performance.
5. The afterclap of his speech lingered in the air, leaving the audience in deep thought.
6. Despite the initial silence, an afterclap of chatter erupted in the crowded café.
7. The afterclap of the gunshot echoed down the empty street, sending shivers down his spine.
8. After the match, the afterclap of cheers from the fans felt like a warm embrace.
9. The afterclap of the drumbeat resonated long after the band had finished playing.
10. Even in the quiet room, the afterclap of their argument hung heavily in the air.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/afterclap>