

AGGRAVATINGLY

Meaning: Aggravatingly: in a manner that causes annoyance or irritation.

1. The sound of the dripping faucet was aggravatingly persistent throughout the night.
2. She had an aggravatingly cheerful attitude that seemed to irritate everyone around her.
3. His habit of interrupting conversations was truly aggravatingly frustrating for his friends.
4. The traffic jam moved aggravatingly slowly as we tried to reach the concert on time.
5. It was aggravatingly obvious that he hadn't prepared for the meeting at all.
6. The constant notifications from my phone were aggravatingly distracting during work hours.
7. She found his sarcastic comments aggravatingly unhelpful in a serious discussion.
8. Her aggravatingly vague responses left everyone confused about her intentions.
9. The weather was aggravatingly hot, making it difficult to focus on anything productive.
10. It was aggravatingly clear that they were not going to meet the deadline despite the warnings.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/aggravatingly>