

AIRLIKE

Meaning: Airlike: possessing a light, delicate, or ethereal quality, reminiscent of air.

1. The artist's painting had an airlike quality that made it seem almost ethereal.
2. Her voice was soft and airlike, floating through the room like a gentle breeze.
3. The dancer moved with an airlike grace, making each step appear weightless.
4. In the quiet of the forest, the airlike whispers of the leaves created a soothing symphony.
5. He had an airlike demeanor, making him approachable and easy to talk to.
6. The clouds above looked airlike, drifting lazily against the bright blue sky.
7. The fabric of her dress was so light and airlike that it felt like she was wearing nothing at all.
8. As the balloon ascended, it took on an airlike form, dancing with the wind.
9. The author's prose had an airlike fluidity, effortlessly drawing readers into the narrative.
10. The dream had an airlike quality, leaving her with a feeling of weightlessness upon waking.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com
<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/airlike>