

ALACRIOUSLY

Meaning: Alacritously: in a cheerful and eager manner, displaying readiness and enthusiasm.

1. She approached the task alacritously, eager to impress her colleagues.
2. The dog wagged its tail alacritously, ready to play fetch at a moment's notice.
3. He accepted the challenge alacritously, confident in his abilities.
4. The children responded alacritously to the call for volunteers, excited to help.
5. She greeted her friends alacritously, her smile reflecting her joy.
6. They tackled the project alacritously, knowing the deadline was fast approaching.
7. The students listened alacritously to the teacher's instructions, eager to learn.
8. He booked the tickets alacritously, wanting to secure the best seats for the concert.
9. The volunteers worked alacritously, driven by their passion for the cause.
10. Her alacritous laughter filled the room, instantly lightening the mood.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/alacritously>