

AMICABLENESS

Meaning: Amicableness refers to the quality of being friendly, cordial, and agreeable in interactions with others.

1. Her amicableness made her a favorite among her colleagues.
2. They resolved their differences with a surprising level of amicableness.
3. The amicableness of their conversation eased the tension in the room.
4. Despite their past conflicts, they approached the negotiation with amicableness.
5. His amicableness and charm won over the most skeptical attendees.
6. The community thrived on a spirit of amicableness and cooperation.
7. Amicableness is essential for maintaining healthy relationships in the workplace.
8. Their amicableness was evident in the way they supported each other during tough times.
9. She handled the criticism with remarkable amicableness and grace.
10. The amicableness between the two teams set a positive tone for the event.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/amicableness>