

ANCHORED

Meaning: ANCHORED: securely moored or held in place, either physically, as in a boat, or emotionally, as in a sense of stability and support.

1. The boat was anchored safely in the harbor for the night.
2. She felt anchored by her family's love and support during tough times.
3. The artist anchored his creativity in the history of his hometown.
4. Their friendship was anchored in years of shared experiences and trust.
5. The documentary anchored its narrative with powerful interviews and footage.
6. The team's success was anchored in their dedication and hard work.
7. He anchored his argument with compelling evidence and logical reasoning.
8. The old tree anchored the garden, providing shade and beauty.
9. Her memories were anchored in the photographs that adorned the walls.
10. The company anchored its strategy in sustainable practices for the future.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/anchored>