

ANNUNCIATE

Meaning: To announce means to pronounce words clearly and distinctly.

1. She took a deep breath before she began to announce each word clearly.
 2. The teacher emphasized the importance of learning to announce properly for effective communication.
 3. In the play, the lead actor needed to announce to ensure the audience could hear every line.
 4. It's essential to announce when giving a presentation to maintain clarity and engagement.
 5. His ability to announce complex ideas made him a sought-after speaker at conferences.
 6. During the speech, she made a conscious effort to announce her thoughts to avoid any misunderstandings.
 7. To improve his accent, he practiced daily to announce each sound accurately.
 8. The announcer's role is to announce the news in a way that is both engaging and informative.
 9. As a language tutor, she focused on helping her students learn to announce difficult phrases.
 10. The director reminded the actors to announce so that every audience member could follow the dialogue.
 11. It is important to announce your words clearly during the presentation.
 12. The teacher encouraged her students to announce each syllable while reading aloud.
 13. To avoid misunderstandings, please announce your instructions carefully.
 14. He practiced daily to improve his ability to announce complex phrases.
 15. The actor was praised for his ability to announce even the most difficult lines.
 16. During the rehearsal, the director reminded the cast to announce for the audience.
 17. She used a microphone to help her announce over the noise of the crowd.
 18. Good diction requires the speaker to announce their thoughts with precision.
 19. The speech therapist worked with him to help him announce better.
 20. In singing, it is crucial to announce the lyrics so the audience can understand.
-

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/annunciate>