

APATHETICALLY

Meaning: APATHETICALLY: in a manner showing little or no interest, enthusiasm, or concern.

1. She listened apathetically as her friend recounted the details of her day.
2. The audience responded apathetically to the speaker's passionate plea for action.
3. He stared apathetically at the television, unable to muster the energy to change the channel.
4. Despite the exciting news, she reacted apathetically, as if it didn't matter to her.
5. The students worked apathetically on their assignments, clearly distracted and uninterested.
6. She shrugged apathetically when asked about her plans for the weekend.
7. He walked apathetically through the park, lost in his thoughts and oblivious to his surroundings.
8. The workers approached their tasks apathetically, showing little enthusiasm or motivation.
9. Her apathetic response to the urgent situation shocked everyone in the room.
10. They debated apathetically, lacking the passion that had once fueled their conversations.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/apathetically>