

APOCALYPTICALLY

Meaning: APOCALYPTICALLY: in a manner that suggests or predicts catastrophic or disastrous events, often relating to an end-of-the-world scenario.

1. The landscape was transformed apocalyptically after the wildfire swept through the forest.
2. She spoke about the future apocalyptically, warning us of the dire consequences of climate change.
3. The film's ending was so apocalyptically bleak that it left many viewers in stunned silence.
4. As the storm approached, the sky turned an apocalyptically dark shade of grey.
5. He described the city in apocalyptically vivid detail, painting a picture of chaos and despair.
6. The report detailed apocalyptically high sea levels predicted for the next century.
7. With apocalyptically loud sirens blaring, the emergency vehicles rushed to the scene.
8. Their laughter echoed apocalyptically in the empty hall, a haunting reminder of what once was.
9. In the novel, the world ended apocalyptically, with humanity struggling to survive.
10. The news broadcast covered the apocalyptically destructive aftermath of the earthquake.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/apocalyptically>