APOPLEX

Meaning: Apoplexy refers to a sudden and often severe medical condition, typically involving a loss of consciousness or paralysis, usually caused by a stroke or bleeding in the brain.

1. His sudden apoplexy left everyone in the room in shock.
2. The doctor explained that apoplexy can occur due to a variety of health issues.
3. After the heated argument, she felt an overwhelming sense of apoplexy.
4. Historical texts often describe the dangers of apoplexy among the upper class.
5. He was prone to bouts of apoplexy when under extreme stress.
6. In old literature, characters often succumb to apoplexy from their passions.
7. The symptoms of apoplexy can mimic those of a stroke.
8. She was warned that her high blood pressure could lead to apoplexy.
9. His face turned pale as he experienced the initial signs of apoplexy.
10. The term apoplexy is rarely used in modern medical discussions.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/apoplex