

APPEALING

Meaning: APPEALING: attractive or interesting in a way that draws positive attention or admiration.

1. The new restaurant has a beautifully designed interior that makes it particularly appealing to visitors.
2. She chose a dress in a vibrant color that was incredibly appealing to everyone at the party.
3. His charm and charisma made him an appealing candidate for the leadership position.
4. The proposal included several appealing features that caught the attention of the investors.
5. The landscape of the valley was especially appealing during the golden hour of sunset.
6. Her warm smile and friendly demeanor made her immediately appealing to new acquaintances.
7. The marketing campaign was so appealing that it led to a significant increase in sales.
8. The idea of traveling to exotic locations was highly appealing to the adventurous spirit within her.
9. With its modern amenities and prime location, the apartment was undeniably appealing to potential renters.
10. The artist's use of color and texture created a visually appealing masterpiece that drew crowds.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/appealing>