

APPERTINENT

Meaning: Appertinent: relevant or applicable to a particular matter or situation.

1. The lawyer presented evidence that was highly appertinent to the case.
2. Her comments were not only insightful but also appertinent to the discussion at hand.
3. The professor emphasized the need for appertinent sources in our research papers.
4. During the meeting, he raised several appertinent questions that guided the conversation.
5. It is crucial to focus on appertinent details when making important decisions.
6. The committee reviewed the appertinent regulations before finalizing their recommendations.
7. She provided appertinent examples that illustrated her point effectively.
8. The report included several appertinent statistics that supported the main argument.
9. His experience in the field made him an appertinent speaker for the conference.
10. Finding appertinent information can significantly enhance the quality of your work.
11. The lawyer presented several apposite arguments that were pertinent to the case.
12. Her remarks were particularly pertinent to the ongoing discussion about climate change.
13. The committee focused on issues that were pertinent to the community's needs.
14. His experience in the field made his insights especially pertinent to the project.
15. I found her comments to be highly pertinent to our current objectives.
16. The research findings were deemed pertinent to future policy decisions.
17. She provided pertinent examples that illustrated her points effectively.
18. It's essential to include pertinent information in your report to support your claims.
19. The consultant's advice was pertinent and helped clarify our next steps.
20. Understanding the historical context is pertinent for interpreting the text accurately.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/appertinent>