

APPORTIONMENT

Meaning: Apportionment is the act of distributing or allocating something, such as resources or seats, among various parties or groups in a manner intended to achieve fairness or efficiency.

1. The apportionment of resources among various departments can significantly impact overall productivity.
2. The committee discussed the apportionment of seats in the upcoming election to ensure fair representation.
3. Proper apportionment of costs is essential for accurately determining project profitability.
4. Experts debated the apportionment of blame in the recent crisis, each presenting their own perspective.
5. The apportionment of land among the heirs was a contentious issue during the family meeting.
6. Fair apportionment of benefits is crucial to maintaining employee morale and satisfaction.
7. The apportionment of time for each speaker was strictly enforced to keep the event on schedule.
8. In some countries, the apportionment of tax burdens leads to heated political debates.
9. The court's decision on the apportionment of assets after divorce was seen as equitable by both parties.
10. Successful apportionment of tasks among team members can enhance collaboration and efficiency.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/apportionment>