

ARTICLED

Meaning: ARTICLED (verb): Engaged in a formal apprenticeship or training period, particularly in a professional field such as law, or published in a written format, especially in a magazine or journal.

1. She articulated with a prestigious law firm after completing her degree.
2. The young artist was excited to have her work articulated in a national magazine.
3. He was articulated to a senior partner who mentored him throughout his training.
4. During her internship, she articulated several important cases for review.
5. The publication has articulated numerous groundbreaking studies in the field.
6. After being articulated for two years, she finally received her certification.
7. In his autobiography, the author detailed how he articulated under a famous painter.
8. They articulated the agreement to ensure all terms were clearly understood.
9. The project was articulated in a leading journal, gaining widespread attention.
10. Many graduates choose to be articulated in different sectors to broaden their experience.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/articled>