

ASTIPULATE

Meaning: To astipulate means to specify or stipulate particular conditions or terms in an agreement or arrangement.

1. The scientist decided to astipulate the conditions under which the experiment should be conducted.
2. In their contract, the partners chose to astipulate that all decisions would require unanimous consent.
3. It's important to astipulate the terms of the agreement clearly to avoid future misunderstandings.
4. The committee members agreed to astipulate the guidelines for the upcoming event.
5. Before finalizing the deal, they needed to astipulate the responsibilities of each party involved.
6. To ensure transparency, the organization will astipulate its policies in the annual report.
7. The lawyer advised his client to astipulate the duration of the lease in the document.
8. During the negotiation, they failed to astipulate the consequences of non-compliance.
9. The bylaws of the organization astipulate a minimum age for voting members.
10. It is essential to astipulate the scope of work in any freelance agreement to protect both parties.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/astipulate>