

ASTRICTION

Meaning: A restriction is a limitation or control placed on something, often to reduce availability or access.

1. The aRestriction of resources during the crisis led to widespread discontent among the population.
2. In his research, he examined the aRestriction of media coverage during election years.
3. The committee proposed aRestriction on the types of materials that could be used in the project.
4. She felt that the aRestriction on her freedom to explore new ideas stifled her creativity.
5. The law introduced aRestriction aimed at protecting endangered species from poaching.
6. A significant aRestriction on funding was implemented, affecting many community programs.
7. The aRestriction of movement during the pandemic was a necessary measure for public health.
8. He argued that the aRestriction placed on personal expression violated fundamental rights.
9. The environmental aRestriction imposed by the government was welcomed by conservationists.
10. Despite the aRestriction, the team managed to innovate and find alternative solutions.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/astriction>