

AURIPIGMENT

Meaning: Auripigment is a bright yellow or golden pigment derived from arsenic sulfide, used in art and chemical applications for its vibrant color and stability.

1. The artist decided to use auripigment in her painting to achieve a vibrant golden hue.
2. Chemists studied auripigment for its unique properties in color stability and vibrancy.
3. In ancient times, auripigment was prized for its brilliant color and rarity.
4. The restoration team carefully selected auripigment to bring the faded fresco back to life.
5. Auripigment was often mixed with other materials to create a more complex palette.
6. Using auripigment in the manuscript illuminations added a luxurious touch.
7. The museum's exhibit highlighted the historical significance of auripigment in art.
8. Auripigment, sourced from mineral deposits, was a favored choice among Renaissance painters.
9. Scholars researched the ethical implications of using auripigment derived from endangered sources.
10. The vibrant sheen of auripigment caught the light beautifully in the gallery.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/auripigment>