

AVOW

Meaning: To avow means to openly declare or affirm one's feelings, beliefs, or support, often with a sense of confidence or assertiveness.

1. She chose to avow her feelings for him, despite the risks involved.
2. The politician did not avow his support for the controversial policy in public.
3. In her memoir, she avowed her struggles with self-doubt and anxiety.
4. He decided to avow his commitment to the cause during the rally.
5. They both avowed their love for each other under the stars.
6. The artist avowed her inspiration came from her travels around the world.
7. After years of silence, he finally avowed the truth about his past.
8. The group members avowed their loyalty to the organization during the meeting.
9. She avowed her intent to donate to the charity at the fundraiser.
10. In his speech, he avowed the importance of honesty in leadership.
11. She chose to avow her commitment to the project in front of the entire team.
12. During the interview, he did not hesitate to avow his passion for environmental conservation.
13. The artist decided to avow his influences, acknowledging the mentors who shaped his style.
14. In a heartfelt letter, she would avow her love for him, hoping he felt the same.
15. The politician chose to avow his mistakes, vowing to learn from them in the future.
16. To gain the trust of his peers, he felt it necessary to avow his previous shortcomings.
17. When the rumors circulated, she decided to avow her innocence publicly.
18. He would often avow his admiration for classic literature during book club discussions.
19. In her acceptance speech, she took a moment to avow her gratitude to her family and friends.
20. The athlete would avow his dedication to training, emphasizing the sacrifices he made.
21. She decided to avow her love for him in front of their friends.
22. The politician chose to avow his commitment to environmental policies.

23. After much reflection, he was ready to avow his mistakes and seek forgiveness.
24. During the debate, she would not hesitate to avow her beliefs.
25. He felt it necessary to avow his intentions before making any promises.
26. In his memoir, he openly avowed his struggles with addiction.
27. She needed to avow her feelings to find closure in the relationship.
28. The artist did not shy away from avowing her inspiration from nature.
29. He chose to avow his allegiance to the team in a heartfelt speech.
30. The author avowed her admiration for classic literature in several interviews.
31. She decided to avow her feelings for him after months of uncertainty.
32. The author chose to avow his commitment to environmental activism through his writing.
33. During the meeting, he will avow his support for the new policy changes.
34. In her speech, she sought to avow the importance of education in achieving equality.
35. They would not avow their mistakes, even when the evidence was clear.
36. He felt compelled to avow his loyalty to the team after their recent struggles.
37. To avow one's beliefs in public can sometimes be a daunting task.
38. She was hesitant to avow her ambitions, fearing they might be dismissed.
39. The witness was asked to avow his account of the events that unfolded.
40. In a moment of honesty, he chose to avow his deepest regrets to his closest friends.