

BACKHANDER

Meaning: 'BACKHANDER' refers to a secret or illicit payment, often a bribe, as well as a type of tennis shot hit with a backhand stroke.

1. The politician was accused of accepting a backhander from a construction firm.
2. During the match, his backhander surprised everyone with its precision and power.
3. The detective uncovered a web of corruption involving backhanders in the city's administration.
4. She executed a perfect backhander that left her opponent scrambling to respond.
5. Many athletes are warned against the dangers of backhanders in professional sports.
6. The scandal erupted when documents revealed the backhander paid to secure the deal.
7. He celebrated his victory with a backhander that showcased his skill on the court.
8. The company's reputation suffered after allegations of backhanders began to surface.
9. Her backhander was so impressive that it earned her a spot on the national team.
10. The judge dismissed the case due to insufficient evidence of any backhander being exchanged.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/backhander>