

BAKINGLY

Meaning: BAKINGLY (adverb): in a manner that is intensely hot or producing heat, often causing a sense of overwhelming warmth or engrossing focus.

1. The sun beat down bakingly on the asphalt, causing heat waves to ripple in the distance.
2. She found herself bakingly absorbed in the recipe, forgetting the time as she measured the ingredients.
3. The bakingly sweet aroma of cookies wafted through the kitchen, enticing everyone nearby.
4. He described the day as bakingly hot, perfect for lounging by the pool with a cold drink.
5. As the afternoon wore on, the bakingly warm air made it necessary to seek shade under the trees.
6. The bread was left in the oven bakingly until it turned a golden brown, filling the house with warmth.
7. They ran outside, laughing in the bakingly bright sunlight, eager to enjoy the summer day.
8. The bakingly delicious scent of fresh pastries drew customers into the quaint little bakery.
9. She loved the bakingly rich chocolate cake that melted in her mouth with every bite.
10. In the bakingly humid weather, staying hydrated became a top priority for everyone.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/bakingly>