

BEDWARF

Meaning: To bedwarf means to cause something to appear significantly smaller or less important in comparison.

1. The massive redwoods in the forest bedwarf the surrounding smaller trees.
2. Her accomplishments seem to bedwarf the achievements of her peers, making her stand out.
3. The mountain range appears to bedwarf the village nestled in the valley below.
4. In the presence of such talent, his skills may bedwarf his confidence.
5. The new skyscraper will bedwarf all other buildings in the downtown area.
6. The sheer size of the ancient statue seems to bedwarf the tourists gathered around it.
7. The data from the recent study may bedwarf previous research findings in the field.
8. As the sun set, the towering cliffs bedwarfed the landscape, casting long shadows.
9. His intellect and knowledge can bedwarf the efforts of those less experienced.
10. The vastness of the ocean can bedwarf even the most seasoned sailor's sense of direction.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/bedwarf>