

BEFLATTER

*Meaning: BEFLATTER (verb): To excessively praise or compliment someone, often insincerely, in order to gain their favor or affection.*

1. To befriend someone, one must sometimes beflatters to create a bond.
2. She didn't appreciate the way he would beflatters just to win her over.
3. In an attempt to beflatters, he exaggerated her skills in front of the crowd.
4. Being a good diplomat often requires the ability to beflatters during negotiations.
5. His constant need to beflatters made it hard for others to take him seriously.
6. She found his beflatters to be disingenuous and off-putting.
7. To persuade the team, he chose to beflatters rather than confrontational.
8. Her talent for beflatters made her a natural at networking events.
9. He realized that being genuine was more effective than trying to beflatters.
10. The artist's beflatters for the critics paid off when they praised her work.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/beflatter>