

BEGONE

Meaning: Begone: an imperative expression used to command someone or something to leave or depart.

1. Begone, foul spirit, and leave this place in peace.
2. With a wave of her hand, she commanded the pests to begone.
3. The magician shouted, "Begone!" as he performed his final trick.
4. In an instant, the storm clouds seemed to hear his plea and began to begone.
5. "Begone!" he cried, flinging the door open to let the fresh air in.
6. The old memories were haunting her, but she decided it was time for them to begone.
7. As the sun broke through the clouds, the darkness slowly began to begone.
8. "Begone from my thoughts," she whispered, trying to focus on the present.
9. He waved his wand, and with a flourish, the uninvited guests were made to begone.
10. The shadows crept closer, but with a determined shout, she told them to begone.
11. Begone, foul creature, before I summon the storm.
12. With a wave of her hand, she commanded, "Begone from my sight!"
13. The magician shouted, "Begone!" as he banished the dark spirit.
14. "Begone!" he cried, his voice echoing through the empty halls.
15. After their argument, she wished he would simply begone and leave her in peace.
16. He waved his hand dismissively, urging the negativity to begone.
17. "Begone!" the wise sage proclaimed, and the shadows melted away.
18. Feeling overwhelmed, she whispered to her worries, "Begone, you have no place here."
19. "Begone to the depths of the past," he declared, closing the door on old memories.
20. As the sun set, she felt her troubles begone with the fading light.

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/begone>