

BELLY-PINCHED

Meaning: Belly-pinched refers to a state of discomfort or distress in the abdomen, often resulting in a tight or pained expression, typically due to overeating or anxiety.

1. She felt belly-pinched after eating too much at the holiday feast.
2. The child's belly-pinched expression revealed he'd been caught sneaking cookies.
3. I could see he was belly-pinched when he realized he had left his wallet at home.
4. After a long day of hiking, I was belly-pinched and ready for a hearty meal.
5. The sudden news left me with a belly-pinched sense of dread.
6. His belly-pinched face told me he was not feeling well after the roller coaster ride.
7. She hated feeling belly-pinched, so she always ate in moderation.
8. The belly-pinched look on his face gave away his discomfort during the meeting.
9. With a belly-pinched sigh, she decided to skip dessert this time.
10. He tried to hide his belly-pinched reaction to the unexpected criticism.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/belly-pinched>