

BENCHER

Meaning: Bencher: a senior member or partner in a law firm, typically involved in governance and decision-making.

1. The bencher sat quietly at the end of the long table, observing the discussion unfold.
2. After years of hard work, she finally became a bencher in her law firm.
3. The bencher's role is crucial in maintaining the integrity of the legal profession.
4. He was honored to be appointed as a bencher by his peers after decades of service.
5. During the meeting, the bencher proposed a new initiative to improve community outreach.
6. As a bencher, she often mentors younger lawyers, sharing her experience and wisdom.
7. The responsibilities of a bencher include overseeing disciplinary actions among the members.
8. At the annual conference, the bencher delivered a keynote speech on ethical practices.
9. The bencher reviewed the case files meticulously before making a decision.
10. Being a bencher requires a commitment to justice and a deep understanding of the law.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/bencher>