

BICORPORATE

Meaning: BICORPORATE (verb): to integrate or combine two distinct entities, such as brands or operations, into a single cohesive unit for improved efficiency or effectiveness.

1. The company decided to bicorporate its operations to enhance efficiency.
2. To bicorporate the two brands, a comprehensive marketing strategy was developed.
3. She proposed to bicorporate the research findings into the final report for clarity.
4. The merger allowed them to bicorporate their resources and reduce overhead costs.
5. In order to bicorporate the new technology, training sessions were scheduled for all employees.
6. The team managed to bicorporate various elements from both designs into a single, cohesive product.
7. They aimed to bicorporate sustainability practices into their business model.
8. The initiative seeks to bicorporate community feedback into the urban planning process.
9. To successfully bicorporate the two systems, extensive testing was required.
10. Management encouraged teams to bicorporate their ideas to foster innovation.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/bicorporate>