

BIFOCAL

Meaning: BIFOCAL: a type of eyeglass lens that has two distinct optical powers, typically for correcting vision at both near and far distances.

1. She switched to bifocal glasses to improve her vision for both reading and distance.
2. His bifocal lenses made it easier for him to read the fine print without straining his eyes.
3. Many older adults find bifocals to be a practical solution for age-related vision changes.
4. After getting bifocals, she noticed a significant improvement in her ability to see clearly.
5. The optometrist recommended bifocals as the best option for her declining eyesight.
6. He had always resisted wearing glasses, but bifocals were a necessary compromise.
7. With bifocal lenses, she could seamlessly transition from reading to watching television.
8. The design of bifocal glasses allows for clear vision at multiple distances.
9. She preferred bifocals over switching between different pairs of glasses.
10. He was surprised at how quickly he adapted to wearing bifocal lenses.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/bifocal>