

BIFRONTED

Meaning: BIFRONTED: having two faces or sides, often presenting contrasting appearances or characteristics.

1. The bifronted statue stood majestically at the entrance of the museum, captivating all who passed by.
2. In her bifronted dress, she seemed to embody both elegance and boldness at the gala.
3. The bifronted design of the building allowed for a unique perspective from every angle.
4. During the debate, the bifronted nature of his argument left many listeners confused about his true stance.
5. The artist's bifronted portrait captured the duality of human emotion with striking detail.
6. The bifronted approach to the project ensured that both sides of the issue were thoroughly explored.
7. He admired the bifronted landscape, where lush greenery met stark rocky cliffs.
8. In literature, a bifronted character often represents the complexities of human nature.
9. The bifronted mask she wore at the festival symbolized the dual aspects of life and death.
10. The documentary showcased the bifronted realities of urban and rural living, highlighting their contrasts.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/bifronted>