

BIOLOGICALLY

Meaning: Biologically refers to the manner in which something relates to the science of life and living organisms, particularly in terms of classification or physiological effects.

1. Biologically, humans are classified as primates within the animal kingdom.
2. The study focused on how stress can biologically affect mental health.
3. Biologically, certain plants have developed mechanisms to survive in extreme environments.
4. Researchers found that the species is biologically adapted to thrive in cold climates.
5. Biologically speaking, the differences between the two species are quite significant.
6. The documentary explored how animals are biologically programmed to migrate.
7. Biologically, the human body requires a balance of nutrients for optimal health.
8. The effects of the drug were shown to be biologically reversible in the lab.
9. Biologically diverse ecosystems are essential for the health of our planet.
10. The experiment aimed to understand how emotions can biologically influence behavior.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/biologically>