

BISTIPULED

Meaning: BISTIPULED: Adjective describing an organism or model that possesses two distinct appendages or structures, often leading to unique or unusual characteristics.

1. The scientist was baffled by the peculiar behavior of the bistipulated organism in the laboratory.
2. During the experiment, the bistipulated model demonstrated unexpected resilience to environmental changes.
3. Researchers noted that the bistipulated feature of the plant contributed to its survival in harsh conditions.
4. The bistipulated design allowed for greater flexibility in the mechanical structure.
5. In nature, bistipulated insects often display unique mating rituals that intrigue biologists.
6. The artist's bistipulated sculpture challenged traditional forms and invited deep contemplation.
7. Understanding the bistipulated characteristics of the species required extensive field studies.
8. The engineer explained how the bistipulated mechanism improved the device's overall efficiency.
9. Her bistipulated argument highlighted the flaws in the opposing theory convincingly.
10. The discovery of bistipulated genes opened new avenues for genetic research and modification.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/bistipuled>