

BLATANT

Meaning: Blatant: (adjective) openly and unashamedly obvious or conspicuous, often in a way that is offensive or unwelcome.

1. The politician's blatant disregard for the truth shocked many voters.
2. Her blatant enthusiasm for the project inspired the entire team.
3. He made a blatant mistake when he forgot to check his sources.
4. The blatant favoritism shown by the coach angered several players.
5. It was a blatant attempt to mislead the public during the campaign.
6. The blatant inconsistency in his statements raised suspicions.
7. She wore a blatant smile that conveyed her confidence in the presentation.
8. The company's blatant lack of transparency drew criticism from activists.
9. His blatant rudeness towards the staff was unacceptable in the workplace.
10. The blatant error in the report was quickly corrected before publication.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/blatant>