

BLEAR

Meaning: BLEAR (verb): to make or become dim, blurry, or indistinct, often due to fatigue or lack of clarity.

1. Her eyes were blear from lack of sleep after staying up all night.
2. The artist's vision became blear as he tried to translate his thoughts onto the canvas.
3. He rubbed his blear eyes and squinted at the bright morning sun.
4. The fog made the distant mountains appear blear and indistinct.
5. After crying for hours, her makeup was smudged and her vision slightly blear.
6. The old photograph had a blear quality, making the faces hard to recognize.
7. His blear gaze suggested that he hadn't been paying attention during the meeting.
8. The exhaustion left him with a blear expression, as if he were in a daze.
9. She tried to read the fine print, but her blear vision made it impossible.
10. The dream felt blear and hazy, slipping away as she woke up.
11. After a long night of studying, his eyes were blear, struggling to focus on the morning lecture.
12. The blear of dawn cast a soft glow over the sleepy town, hinting at the day ahead.
13. She rubbed her blear eyes, trying to shake off the fatigue of sleepless nights.
14. The old photograph was blear, its colors faded and edges worn from years of handling.
15. His blear vision made it difficult to read the tiny print on the label.
16. The blear sky suggested that rain was on the way, darkening the horizon with clouds.
17. With a blear expression, he stumbled into the kitchen in search of coffee.
18. The blear lights of the city twinkled in the distance, merging with the fog.
19. She gazed through the blear window, watching the raindrops race down the glass.
20. The artist captured the blear essence of the morning mist in her painting.

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/blear>