

BLOOD-SHOTTON

Meaning: Blood-shotten refers to eyes that are red and swollen, typically due to lack of sleep, fatigue, or emotional distress.

1. Her eyes were blood-shotten after a sleepless night filled with worry.
2. The detective noticed the suspect's blood-shotten gaze, revealing his lack of rest.
3. After binge-watching horror movies, I woke up with blood-shotten eyes.
4. The exhaustion from studying late into the night left her with blood-shotten vision.
5. His blood-shotten eyes betrayed the fact that he had been crying.
6. She stared into the mirror, noticing her blood-shotten reflection.
7. The athlete's blood-shotten expression suggested he had pushed himself too hard.
8. With every passing hour, his blood-shotten eyes became more pronounced.
9. The haunting memories left him with a blood-shotten stare that lingered.
10. Despite his cheerful demeanor, his blood-shotten eyes told another story.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/blood-shotten>