

BLUBBER

Meaning: Blubber refers to a thick layer of fat found in certain marine animals, particularly seals, or to cry noisily and uncontrollably.

1. The children laughed as they watched the seal flop around, leaving behind a trail of blubber on the sand.
2. She felt a wave of emotion wash over her, causing her to blubber uncontrollably during the heartfelt goodbye.
3. The documentary revealed how the thick layer of blubber helps the whale stay warm in frigid waters.
4. He tried to hold back his tears, but the sadness made him blubber like a baby.
5. The researchers explained that blubber serves as an energy reserve for marine mammals during lean times.
6. After the breakup, she spent the entire weekend at home, blubbering over her favorite sad movies.
7. The chef prepared a dish that highlighted the rich flavor of blubber from the freshly caught fish.
8. As he read the touching letter from his friend, he couldn't help but blubber with gratitude.
9. The stranded whale was found covered in blubber, which had become vital for its survival on land.
10. Despite his attempts to be composed, he ended up blubbering when he saw his long-lost dog again.
11. The child began to blubber when she lost her favorite toy.
12. After the emotional movie, he couldn't help but blubber into his popcorn.
13. She tried to compose herself, but the news made her blubber uncontrollably.
14. The puppy's sad eyes made him blubber for no apparent reason.
15. As soon as he started talking about his childhood, tears began to blubber down his cheeks.
16. During the heartfelt speech, many audience members began to blubber softly.
17. The little boy blubbered about being scared of the dark.

18. Even the toughest men blubber at the sight of a newborn baby.
19. When she read the letter from her long-lost friend, she started to blubber.
20. The tension in the room broke when someone began to blubber with laughter.
21. The child began to blubber when he lost his favorite toy.
22. After watching the emotional movie, she couldn't help but blubber softly.
23. He tried to hold back his tears, but the news made him blubber uncontrollably.
24. The puppy's big eyes made her blubber with affection.
25. During the reunion, they all started to blubber as old memories flooded back.
26. She felt embarrassed when her voice cracked as she began to blubber.
27. The blubber of the whale is thick and helps it survive in cold waters.
28. He was so moved by the speech that he began to blubber like a baby.
29. The kids burst into laughter at the sight of their friend starting to blubber.
30. Despite his tough exterior, he often found himself blubbering at sentimental moments.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/blubber>