

BLUNDERINGLY

Meaning: Blunderingly: in a manner characterized by clumsiness or lack of tact, often resulting in disruption or embarrassment.

1. She blunderingly stumbled into the conversation, disrupting the flow of ideas.
2. His blunderingly awkward attempts at flirting left everyone in the room cringing.
3. The team blunderingly missed the deadline, causing frustration among the stakeholders.
4. She blunderingly mispronounced the guest's name during the introduction.
5. He blunderingly backed into the parked car, leaving a dent in the bumper.
6. The novice chef blunderingly added salt instead of sugar to the dessert recipe.
7. In her blunderingly naive optimism, she believed everything would work out perfectly.
8. He blunderingly tried to fix the computer without understanding the problem.
9. The child blunderingly spilled paint all over the floor, creating a colorful mess.
10. They blunderingly entered the wrong meeting room, much to their embarrassment.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/blunderingly>