

BLUSTER

Meaning: Bluster refers to loud, aggressive, or boastful behavior intended to impress or intimidate others, often lacking genuine substance or effectiveness.

1. He tried to bluster his way through the interview, but the panel saw right through his bravado.
2. The politician's bluster did little to convince the public of his commitment to reform.
3. Despite his bluster, she could sense his underlying insecurity.
4. They were all taken in by his bluster until the truth came to light.
5. The storm was just a bluster, and soon the sun broke through the clouds.
6. She often resorted to bluster when she felt cornered in arguments.
7. His bluster convinced no one; everyone knew he lacked real experience.
8. The CEO's bluster failed to mask the company's declining profits.
9. In a moment of bluster, he made a promise he couldn't keep.
10. Her bluster came off as an attempt to cover her fear of failure.
11. He tried to bluster his way out of the difficult situation with exaggerated confidence.
12. The politician's bluster during the debate failed to impress the audience.
13. Despite his bluster, she could see that he was actually quite nervous.
14. The storm turned out to be more bluster than danger, with only minor gusts reported.
15. Her bluster about being the best in the class did not match her actual performance.
16. He often resorts to bluster when he feels threatened by a challenging opponent.
17. The team's bluster before the game didn't translate into a victory on the field.
18. She could hear the bluster in his voice, masking his uncertainty about the project.
19. The CEO's bluster during the presentation didn't convince the investors of the company's stability.
20. In moments of bluster, he often overlooked the more thoughtful advice from his peers.
21. His bluster during the meeting only served to frustrate the team further.

22. She tried to bluster her way through the interview, but her lack of experience showed.
23. The politician's bluster failed to convince the public of his sincerity.
24. Despite his bluster, it was clear that he was nervous about the presentation.
25. They could see through his bluster and realized he wasn't as confident as he pretended to be.
26. The storm's bluster rattled the windows and made the night feel even more ominous.
27. Her bluster was a mask for her true feelings of insecurity and doubt.
28. He resorted to bluster when he couldn't provide a substantive answer to the question.
29. The coach's bluster inspired the players, even if it was a bit over the top.
30. In the face of adversity, his bluster turned into genuine courage.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/bluster>