BUCKLER-HEADED

Meaning: Buckler-headed refers to having a rounded, shield-like shape or design, often used to describe a type of helmet or figure that features a prominent, circular top.

1. He wore a buckler-headed helmet that gleamed in the sunlight.
2. The sculptor created a stunning figure with a buckler-headed warrior stance.
3. In the ancient battlefield, the buckler-headed soldiers fought valiantly.
4. Her buckler-headed approach to the project showcased her unique creativity.
5. The buckler-headed design of the shield offered both beauty and protection.
6. His buckler-headed demeanor often intimidated his opponents.
7. During the reenactment, they donned buckler-headed gear to stay true to history.
8. The painting depicted a buckler-headed knight poised for battle.
9. With a buckler-headed strategy, they navigated the challenges ahead.
10. The folklore spoke of a buckler-headed hero who defended the realm.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/buckler-headed